Memento, homo, quad cinis est Et i-in cenerem revete-e-ris

Memento, homo, quad cinis est Et i-in cenerem revete-e-ris Earth has been wondrously created out of earth Earth has attained dignity on earth out of nothing Earth has fixed all his thoughts On trying to raise earth to heaven on earth

Earth wants to be an earthly king But earth doesn't know how on earth to go about it When earth breeds earth and brings home his rewards Earth will have to bid a hard farewell to earth.

Remember, man, that you are ashes And to ashes you shall return

Earth conquers castles and towers on earth Then says earth to the earth, "All of this is ours" When earth has built up his earthly defences That's when earth will give him his come-uppance.

Remember, man, that you are ashes And to ashes you shall return

Earth piles up on earth like dirt on dirt He who goes about the earth, glittering like gold As if earth doesn't have to return to earth Will find despite himself that earth will go back to earth

I wonder why earth loves earth Or why earth should sweat and toil for earth For when earth is brought to the earth of his grave Earth back in the earth will stink to high heaven

Remember, man, that you are ashes And to ashes you shall return

Remember, man, that you are ashes And to ashes you shall return
